Q&A

General

Q: What if families I serve speak English as a second language? Do these programs offer language interpretation services?

A: Yes. Both SNAP and WIC provide translation and interpretation services. Several SNAP and WIC staff speak multiple languages. As well, all SNAP and WIC staff are trained to use a District-provided language access service. The District also has a texting hotline where families can text FOOD or COMIDA to 877-877 to find meals for kids in their community. Details are given in Spanish if they text COMIDA to the texting hotline.

Q: Where can I find special store hours for seniors, vulnerable populations, and pregnant women?

A: You can find the list of stores providing special hours on the <https://coronavirus.dc.gov/food> webpage.

WIC

Q: What additional resources are available to families if they run out of food/formula before the end of the month?

A: Families can use LinkU to find local organizations and food pantries that provide supplies for infants. Families can also find local organizations partnering with the Greater DC Diaper Bank to meet their diaper needs; families should look closely at the requirements for each partner organization before visiting.

Q: Can new participants apply for WIC on the phone?

A: Yes. New and returning participants can call their local WIC office to apply for WIC.

SNAP

Q: Where can I find the online SNAP application?

A: dcbenefits.dhs.dc.gov

Q: When does the online SNAP purchasing program go live? Can families use SNAP-EBT along with non-EBT cards?

A: The online SNAP purchasing program is live as of May 13. Amazon is currently the only approved vendor, but DHS is working to bring in additional stores into the program. Families can use both their SNAP-EBT and non-EBT credit/debit cards to purchase groceries.

Pandemic-EBT (P-EBT)

Q: If families qualify for free or reduced-priced meals at school but do not have an EBT card, how will they receive benefits?

A: An EBT card with P-EBT benefits will be mailed to them.

Q: Will families with children in childcare be able to receive P-EBT benefits?

A: No. The Families First Coronavirus Response Act authorized P-EBT for students participating in the National School Lunch Program and School Breakfast Program. Most childcare centers serve meals using the Child & Adult Care Food Program, so families enrolled are not eligible for P-EBT benefits. However, families with children in Pre-

Kindergarten 3 and 4 at D.C. Public Schools and public charter schools are eligible for benefits.

Q: What is the difference between SNAP-EBT and P-EBT?

A: SNAP-EBT is an existing federal program to support the nutritional needs of low-income individuals and families. P-EBT is a new program authorized by the Families First Coronavirus Response Act which provides benefits to purchase foods to families who have lost access to free school meals due to COVID-19 related school closures. Benefit amounts are equal to the price of a free school breakfast and lunch. P-EBT is available to all families eligible for free or reduced-price lunch which SNAP has more strict eligibility guidelines. P-EBT does not count towards a public charge test and is open to non-U.S. citizens and mixed immigration households.

Q: Do parents have to apply for P-EBT benefits?

A: No. If a student is already eligible for free or reduced-price school meals or attends a Community Eligibility Provision school, they are automatically enrolled in P-EBT. If a family does not fall into either of these categories and might be newly eligible, they can enroll in P-EBT by applying for SNAP benefits or by contacting their school to complete a Free and Reduced Price Meal application.

Resources for Older Adults

Q: What resources are available for older adults who do not meet the financial guidelines of SNAP or other food assistance programs?

A: Seniors who need food resources or information on other resources can call the Dept. of Aging and Community Living's (DACL) hotline (202) 724-5626. The call center will conduct a quick assessment and connect them to the appropriate service. If they are not eligible for DACL programs, DACL will connect the seniors to other community resources. Seniors can also use LinkU to find local organizations and food pantries that provide food assistance. Seniors can also call the Capital Area Food Bank's Hunger Hotline at 202-644-9807 for recommendations on food resources.

Q: Where can older adults access meal delivery?

A: The Dept. of Aging and Community Living (DACL) has transitioned all senior meal sites to home-delivered meals. Seniors who already received meals are now receiving up to 14 meals delivered once a week. Seniors who need food resources or information on other resources can call DACL's hotline (202) 724-5626. The call center will conduct a quick assessment and connect them to the appropriate service.
